Montreal West Viewspaper

April-May 2019, Vol. 47, No. 4

by Maurice Krystal

For some reason I thought I would be interviewing an 11-year-old writing prodigy, but I have reached the age where I write things down, but then forget to look at my agenda book. (I'm probably guilty of ageism). The woman I met at the door was somewhat older than a preteen. Our email correspondence gave no hint at the person's age or even gender. Pat's only unusual stipulation was that there would be no photographs taken, except of the books itself. After many years of interviews for The Informer, this was a first.

As a youngster Pat spent almost one academic year at the Montreal Children's Hospital. She required surgery and was in a contraption that rotated her body so she spent four hours staring at the ceiling and the next four at the floor. After that she was in braces and had to move about in a wheelchair and finally she had to relearn to walk. It was this experience that taught her to appreciate the kindness of people and to have compassion and understanding of others. At Vanier she gravitated towards the health sciences. For the next 20 years she worked in the health profession.

Jonathan Halliday is 18 years old and you've most likely seen him around Town. More recently, you may have spotted him working and volunteering with the CRA's soccer program, either on the field, in the gym or at events such as Santa's Breakfast. Jonathan has been a MoWest resident since he was three, went to elementary at Edinburgh School and worked at the Children's Library. He is currently attending John Abbott College, studying in graphic and web design – what a commute! Jonathan has also been a part of the MoWest Scout group since he was six and is now a Rover Scout. helping out where he can with the yearly fertilizer drive and other events.

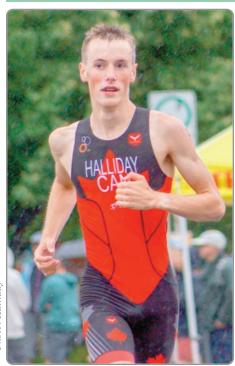

Over the past two years, Jonathan has fallen in love with triathlon, a multi-disciplinary sport hinged on swimming, biking and running. He is currently racing in the sprint distance races and has participated in many races in and around Quebec.

Bonder's Bookstore:

the passing of Abe Bonder

by Maurice Krystal

Bonder's Bookstore had its origins in 1953 in a cramped space next door to the Outremont Theatre on Bernard Ave. (Today it is the box office of the theatre.) Abe Bondor and his wife, Sala, didn't just sell books, they talked to their customers and discussed socialistic, humanistic and counterculture ideas and philosophy. He was an educator and it didn't matter your age, when you entered his store he treated you with respect.

According to his sons, Arieh and Ely, their father's aim was to create a universal, secular, scientific, humanistic, socialist society. He loved to debate with his clients and sons and encouraged freethinking. Some authors he carried, like Marx, Engels, Luxemburg, Buber, Arendt and Chomsky as well as Yiddish socialist papers, still involved some risk during the last years of McCarthyism and the Duplessis government in Quebec.

Abe grew up in the Plateau in the same place and era as Mordecai Richler. He joined Zionist-Socialist groups and planned to settle in Palestine. During WWII he joined the air force and became a mechanic. He was sent to Europe and in Hanover met his wife to be, Sala Solarz, the sole survivor of her extended Polish family, who was working in a displaced persons' camp for those individuals who survived the Holocaust. He had to return to Canada, but he soon went back and they married in Paris. In 1947 they settled in a newly-formed Kibbutz a year before the establishment of Israel.

A few years later they returned to Canada and in order to make a living and raise three children (a daughter Ricky was born in Canada and died at the age of 51) and to still find a means to express the idealism that he never lost, Abe opened up the tiny store beside the Outremont Theatre. A few years later, they moved a few blocks and rented space next to Steinberg's on Bernard Ave.

In 1984 Steinberg's wanted the space to enlarge their store and the Bonders were not interested in moving. That's when they sold the business to Irving Fransblow, a brother-in-law to Ely. Abe retired and the business moved to Monkland Ave. and Sala Bonder continued working there for a few years. She passed away in September of 2008.

Not all Abe's idealism was lost on the bookshelves of just words. His legacy lives on through Kibbutz Ein Dor, which he helped found and still thrives, and it lives on in Weisbord Acres, a small, tight community in the Larentians near St. Hippolyte. This February 25, in his 97th year, Abraham Bonder peacefully passed away.

After 10 years in NDG the store moved to Westminster and has been part of the community for the past 25 years and the name and the legend continues.

Jonathan raced in the Montreal Esprit and Montreal International Triathlon. This summer he qualified to join Team Canada's age group racers at the 2019 Triathlon World Finals in Lausanne, Switzerland. This trip is not only an amazing sporting opportunity, but also a great opportunity for him to represent Canada. Now with a goal race in mind, he is doubling down, along with his coaches, on his training; the majority of which takes place at the Côte Saint-Luc Aquatics Centre and around Montreal West. He tends to run in the streets around Strathearn and the arena, rain or shine, winter and summer. You might spot him running by this spring with a blue pompom on his tuque – don't hesitate to say hello and feel free to join him!

A Catholic priest originally from the Beauce named Father Gerald has been the driving force behind the project. Father Gerald has been in Peru since 1972 and has started many projects there. These include building latrines, wells, schools and lunch programs. In 1974, the population of Pucallpa was 50,000, today it is 600,000. People have been more attracted to the city rather than rural areas both for jobs and security as the Shinning Path Guerrillas, a communist revolutionary organization in Peru espousing Marxism-Leninism-Maoism, have been very active in the rural areas.

supporting this medical clinic since 2009.

Pucallpa is on the Ucayali River in the Amazonian rainforest of eastern Peru. Many people live in poverty and health care is not free. Mike's clinic provides free medical and dental care through small health care clinics twice a year. The money we send goes to the Rotary club there and since 2009 we have sent $30,000 to provide health services. All medical staff provide their services free of charge so our money goes a long way. Father Gerald has branched out into portable water filtration systems and wheel chairs. He has given out 122 wheel chairs over the last couple of years and now has the chairs built in Peru at a cost of $120 each. He started an eye glass project for children and this year 50 children have been fitted with glasses. Michael hopes that we can keep raising the money needed to continue to provide the needy in Pucallpa with these essential medical services.

in memoriam

In loving memory of Audrey Squires Morrison

1932-2019

Audrey passed away in March leaving her loving husband Irvin Morrison, her son Garry MacDonald (Lynne McVey) and her sister Joanie Chevalier (Bob) as well as many grandchildren and great grandchildren.

MoWest residents will remember her daughter Sandra MacDonald, the former receptionist for the CRA and ever present "Rink Mom." Sandra and Audrey's son, John MacDonald, predeceased her.

Audrey had retired from the Montreal General Hospital after a successful career in medical records. Some time during their 45 year marriage, she and Irwin adopted MoWest as their home where they lived a happy life.

A comforting reception encompassing her family and friends was held earlier to celebrate Audrey's life.

The Montreal West community joins in to offer their condolences to all members of her family.

from Lise McVey

Her writing career began very spontaneously. She was always a reader and keen observer of others. Once, when she saw Shania Twain on TV talking about the breakup of her marriage and she saw the singer's sadness and she wrote a song to cheer her up. But the incident that changed her career was when her 18-year-old daughter went to the fridge and freaked out when she saw a spider. Her daughter had a lifelong issue with arachnophobia. That led to the writing and printing of I Don't Like Spiders But They Seem To Like Me! She worked with Texas illustrator Korey Scott and produced only one copy. But the book proved popular as this is a common phobia, and more copies were printed, sold and donated.

And more followed

There have been five more works produced since then. None were planned out but rather they germinated from personal and/social issues. They involve incidents that happened in Pat's life, and she includes characters she knows in her books. This could be herself in a wheelchair, a neighbour who is in her 90s, a boy wearing a hearing aid, or one with special needs.

While many children's book writers begin with the moral concept they wish to impart, and then build a plot to convey this "lesson," personal incidents initiate Pat's works. She does preliminary sketches and spends many hours conversing with Korey creating the illustrations as she visualized them.

Pat sells her books on her web site, through vendor shows, Amazon, and Indigo. The most fun for her is meeting the children and their families. This includes giving readings at elementary and preschools. She loves getting down on the floor with her audience and reading to them. The text rhymes and appeals to the young and young at heart. The colourful artwork draws in the reader or listener. The themes are many: bullying, fears, pride in differences, education, social-emotional learning and being kind to one another. They can be flexibly used with various age groups and they open the doors to self-evaluation.

I wondered why she was "hiding" and she implied that the message of her work was more important than the messenger. We tend to judge people by external factors, such as appearance, gender, age, race and countless other extraneous elements. She wants the books and their message to stand by themselves.

After leaving, I realized I was mentally prepared to question an 11-year-old girl. Would I have "seen" these books differently if the writer happened to be so young? Would I have lost my objectivity? Probably!

Extra Miles Senior Visiting Program

MoWest United Church's Extra Miles Senior Visiting Program is thrilled to have the opportunity to sit on the MADA (Municipalité amie des aînées) Steering Committee and is pleased to be part of the process looking at how all seniors in Town can have a high quality of life.

Extra Miles is concerned with the frail, isolated seniors in our community. Studies and reports confirm connecting with the community and/or someone for friendship and understanding reduces vulnerability and health risks associated with a lack of social support and loneliness. Connections improve quality of life and integration into the community.

Extra Miles provides volunteer-based friendly visits to this population in NDG and MoWest to reduce isolation and to remain in touch with and be part of the community.

In addition to friendly visits Extra Miles is building on its intergenerational practice: Intergenerational Day and Musical Thursday. It is proven linking youth and seniors reduces the sense of isolation, breaks down barriers and stereotypes and enhances the sense of belonging and of community.

Extra Miles working with Town community partners and the West End Intergenerational Network's (WIN) partners continues to raise awareness about intergenerational practice and facilitates and fosters opportunities for youth and seniors to connect with one another for learning, fun and leisure. Extra Miles is fortunate to work with the Elizabeth Ballantyne and Edinburgh Schools to promote intergenerational events and programs within Montreal West and to help build a stronger community.

For more information please contact Tracie Swim at 482-3210 or extramiles.senior@gmail.com.

Intergenerational planting party at the AGI

In March, grade 3 and 6 students from the school's lunchtime Gardening Club spent a morning planting seeds with seniors at the AGI (Alzheimer's Group) at the corner of Côte Saint-Luc Road and Westminster. This was the second year that this "planting party" was organized between the Garden Club students and participants of the AGI's day program.

The seniors and students spent the first part of the visit chatting and getting to know one another and, after that, the soil, seeds and pots came out and the planting began! In all, 160 seedlings were planted, including tomatoes, cucumbers, ground cherries, basil and kale. This year, cucamelons were also planted which generated a lot of interest – they will grow into tiny, slightly sour cucumbers. A portion of the seedlings will be planted in the Edinburgh garden and the rest will be sold by students at the annual Spring Fair as a fundraiser for the Gardening Club.

There was singing and laughter as young and old got their hands dirty. Lucas, a grade 3 student, said: "I really liked talking with the seniors and planting with them. Our table was the singing table. They even all sang when we were leaving. I felt like they were so happy and I really liked talking to them."

The singing seniors also made an impression on Della, grade 3: "I had fun there. It was fun to be with Sidney and Leonard, they sang a lot and shared their stories about their life."

Another grade 3 student, Ione, said: "The AGI visit was really fun! I liked how we got to help them garden."

Tyler, also from grade 3, talked about how he was proud to introduce the seniors at his table to ground cherries, his favourite fruit.

Sigrid, a grade 6 student, was impressed by the seniors' stories: "I think it was awesome! The two people I had in my group had amazing stories to tell, one of them actually showed me his black and white photos."

The gardening activity not only got young and old working together, it opened up a space where memories and experiences could be shared by different generations. Members of the Garden Club hope to keep up the relationship with the AGI participants as the growing season progresses. Many thanks to Paola Bresba from AGI for helping us organize this event!

Knitters across Canada bring comfort and joy to children of the world

This project is comparable to a two way street. While creating these lovable handheld dolls, the knitter's skills and imagination are set into high gear. Children, in more than 100 countries who may never have had a toy, can imagine that someone somewhere has made something for them.

There is no need to set up a think tank to produce one. Two-ply wool from that multicolored stash that has been sitting in a cupboard for all those years and away we go mounting 32 stitches. Then purl a row, knit a row for approximately 56 rows. Diminish to form a tuque. Next stage is when the knitter's creative juices come into to play to stuff and sculpt that little darling. A word of caution however; do not fall in love with them or else, as the prospective empty nester knows, one cannot push them out the door.

Here is how the dolls are distributed worldwide by Health Partners International of Canada. Medical health kits containing essential medicines are packed for doctors and healthcare professionals so that people can be treated and healed. Rather than securing the medical contents with bubble pack, the dolls are used for this purpose.

Every year the knitters and crocheters provide 12,000 dolls to children in need.

The history of the concept of Izzy Dolls and knitting patterns can be found at hpiccanada/izzy-dolls.

Public Library

The library is having a busy and active spring this year with many illustrious visitors as we continue our MoWest Reads, Writes and Talks series, but there are some other items that we will need to address. The first and foremost is the library's relocation. As was stated in last month's Informer, the Town has decided to sell the library's current location. A relocation committee has been formed from current library board members to work with Town on this project. At the same time, a new group has been formed to help advocate for the library, Friends of Library. Please feel free to contact the library for more information on either of these groups.

The library will be using The Informer, the library newsletter and website to keep everyone up to date.

New membership offerings

The library had decided at the end of last year to update our membership offerings. The biggest change is to now offer a household membership to all MW residents at the rate of $35 per household. This allows for all household members to have borrowing privileges. The library will also hold its first membership drive in September. So, for those of you who use to renew your membership in the spring or summer, the library will now be renewing all memberships in September.

What you might have missed!

We had three wonderful events at the library this past spring. We had an evening of poetry Friday, March 1 and we had Dr. Robert Drummond and Ian Thomson present Tommy Thomson's War on March 20. Both events were well attended and enjoyed by all. We also had Giller short-listed author Éric Dupont April 11.

Dr. Robert Drummond presenting Tommy Thomson's War

Nous avons récemment accueilli Éric Dupont pour une présentation de son livre La fiancée américaine (« Songs for the Cold of Heart » en version anglaise). Si vous étiez présents, merci encore! Si vous l'avez ratez, rassurez-vous! Nous avons son livre en français et en anglais ainsi que son nouveau livre « La route du Lilas » pour votre plaisir de lecture.

Coming events

April 17 at 7:30 pm, the library will host a panel of local environmental groups and businesses discuss the reasons for their involvement in their respective organizations. Come and get involved or learn ways in which we can help. Climate change does not have to be only our children's issue – we can all help!

April 26, the library is hosting a comedy night in our neighbourhood. Like to laugh, but don't want to go downtown? Walk over to the curling club for a night of laughs at the Laughs for the Library. Joey Elias along with three comics will be performing. Tickets are $25 and available at the library. Get your tickets early as there is limited seating.

May 14 at 7 pm, the library's writing group: Everyone has a story to tell. A dozen writers gather every second Tuesday to give feedback and help each other find their voice. Come listen to six new writers (Pat Hardt, Kathleen Brouillette, Kim Darlington, Carolyn Dick, Trish Hewat) give a brief presentation of their prose/poetry in the library. Following the readings, a discussion will follow and writers will answer questions about their work and what the writing process is like.

Friends of the MoWest Public Library mission statement

The Friends of the MW Public Library was initiated on March 18 under the direction of library volunteer Giuliana Pendenza. Working with the Town, the library board, residents and the library members, we wish to advance our mission: advocating for the best interests of the library.

First among these is location. Plans are afoot to move the library to an unspecified new site, potentially to demolish the existing building, to eliminate the adjoining John Simms Park and replace all with a mixed-use commercial/residential complex. Friends of the Library ask if this is indeed the best course. The Town's own architectural plan states: "All undertakings on a building that contributes to the historic character of the Town should give precedence to conservation and authenticity over replacement and imitation." As the library forms part of the official Westminster "Institutional Area," should precedence not be given to renovation and conservation rather than replacement?

If moving must take place, Friends of the Library believe an alternative location for the library must be selected and confirmed before the sale of the current location occurs and that the public must be involved in the determination of that new site. The Public Library began in a local church basement many decades ago. We cannot risk regressing 50 years and housing the library for "three to five years" in a similar space. Moved or renovated, either way, the library must be accessible to all residents.

Culture should form part of the MoWest Urban Plan, as currently it does not. The Public Library stands as the main cultural hub of the Town. It must remain that way. Fact: what made Finland one of the happiest countries in the world? "Finns take community seriously.... Boosting community is the motivation for a growing trend in Finnish cities — reinvigorating libraries." — National Post, March 21, 2019, "How is Finland so Happy?"

MAYOR'S REPORT

Ouebec Bill 21

On Thursday, March 28, the provincial government deposited their Bill 21 that deals with religious neutrality.

Regardless of your opinion on the matter, as the Mayor of Montreal West, I have a very serious reservation about the bill's infringement in municipal affairs. More specifically, according to the proposed law, certain municipal employees would be barred from wearing overt religious symbols and clothing. For example, peace officers and town clerks would not be allowed to wear a kippah, a hijab, a cross or a turban while at work. Personally, I fail to see how an employee wearing one of those symbols would be biased while exercising his or her duties. Is the Public Security Officer less competent because he's wearing a turban? Is the Town Clerk somehow imposing her religion on the public because she's wearing a hijab? That's simply ridiculous.

I've publicly stated that I cannot abide by that aspect of the law. My fellow mayors in the Association of Suburban Municipalities are in agreement on this point and we will continue to make our point known. We have offered to work with the City of Montreal to present a common position on this matter that represents the whole island of Montreal – including presenting a joint brief with them during the commission hearings on this Bill.

Infrastructure work 2019

As I mentioned in one of our Council meeting in December, we have been accorded a grant of $1,020M to undertake infrastructure work on Wolseley Avenue North (between Radcliffe and Edinburgh) and Crestwood. At our March Council meeting, we awarded a contract in the amount of $3.1M to undertake the work on both streets this summer. The work will entail complete reconstruction of both sections: water main, sewers, road foundation, sidewalks and road surface. The lowest conforming bid is about 12% less than our estimate for the work.

Though

reconstructing both streets in one summer is a big nut to crack, I believe we need to continue our infrastructure work at a steady pace. It's not sexy, but it needs to be done. And, coupled with the problems we have with potential sewer cross-connections in the sector, I believe tackling both streets immediately is the only environmentally responsible thing to do. As always, we will hold an information session for the affected residents before the work begins.

Coffee with the Mayor

Coffee with the Mayor will take place on Thursday, April 25 and Thursday, May 23, from 7:30 to 8:30 am in the Community Centre.

Beny Masella, Mayor Town of Montreal West bmasella@montreal-west.ca

YES, MONEY DOES GROW ON TREES

Want to add between 5% to 18% to your property value with a single step? It's simple. Plant a tree. Or better yet, request a tree planting by the Town's Public Works department. It seems incredible, but it's true. Study after study has shown that having a mature street tree in front of your home markedly increases its curb appeal. A Quebec City home buyer study showed this to be true especially in upscale "leafy" neighbourhoods — like Montreal West.

So what could that 5%-18% bump in property value translate into here? A whopping $30,000 to $120,000 for a $675,000 Montreal West home! Of course, those figures represent the value added by a fully mature street tree. So, if you don't already have one, get one planted immediately. Even if you're thinking of relocating in 5-10 years, the addition of a tree now will certainly enhance your eventual selling price.

You may be thinking, "That's crazy! There's no way a tree can add that much value." But just step out your door and picture your street without its trees. Like the Quebec City study indicated, people move to places like Montreal West largely for the green street appeal. New developments may offer cheaper housing stock, but their streets are devoid of character and the comfort provided by a beautiful tree canopy.

Manicured lawns and well-kept flowerbeds also add to a home's attractiveness, but have much less of an effect on actual property value. This makes sense, since prospective buyers can easily install a new lawn or flower bed, but a mature tree takes years to develop and is recognised as an irreplaceable asset.

Of course, we MoWesters love our gardens, and sometimes resist planting trees for fear of shading the flowers. But there are plenty of slow-growing options like oaks and hawthorns that will take years to cast prolific shade and ultimately add tremendous value to your property.

Every spring and fall the Public Works department selects a number of public domain locations that require street trees to maintain our healthy green infrastructure. If you get a Town letter indicating your address has been selected for a street tree, you'll get a choice of 3 species to pick from. If you don't get a letter but would still like to have a tree in front of your home, head to our website and fill out the Tree planting form (located under Public Works > Trees). The Town will assess your front lot and, if possible, plant and maintain a tree for its lifetime. And you'll reap the benefits!

WHERE DOES ALL YOUR ROOF WATER GO?

Although Montreal West has been undertaking major infrastructure renewal for the past ten years, many of our stormwater and wastewater pipes still date back several decades, and in some areas of town, the pipes are combined into a single system. Increased rainwater runoff can therefore lead to sewer overflows and potential flooding.

In order to mitigate this, Montreal West has a regulation in our Building Bylaw (article 2.1.7) stipulating that rainwater off a sloped roof cannot flow directly into the Town's sewage system. The provision has been in effect for years and is similar to regulations in most municipalities. There is an exception for flat roofs which generally have interior downspouts.

Simply put, the gutter downspout from a sloped roof should exit onto the exterior of your property, rather than flowing into your home's drainage system which empties directly into the Town's sewers. In addition, when draining to the exterior, it is preferable that roof water flows onto your lawn, where it can be partially absorbed by the soil instead of flowing full-force into the sewer system.

Strain on municipal sewers

The reason for the bylaw is to help alleviate overflowing of the municipal sewer system in the case of severe storms when the large amount of water flowing into the sewage system in record time can cause the sewer to back up. The problem has become increasingly frequent in today's world of climate change. We have seen flooding in many North American cities, often caused by the backflow of the sewer system which could not handle the onslaught.

Diverting downspout water

In order to manage this backflow risk, the Town has been doing inspections and asking residents who have illegal drains to correct them. Luckily, the correction is a simple fix. Flexible downspout extensions costing less than $10 are available at most hardware stores and can be attached to your downspout to reroute the rainwater onto your lawn. In addition to downspout extenders, self-coiling diverters or drainage trenches can be used to redirect the water from the roof to infiltrate the soil. Just make sure to direct the water at least 1.5 meters from your building foundation, without negatively impacting your neighbour's property.

In addition to diverting the rainwater away from the sewer system and preventing flooding, redirecting it towards your landscaping will hydrate the soil, cut down on your need for watering, and better preserve your vegetation during dry spells.

Take a look at your roof drainage system and correct it if necessary. Inspections will be continuing throughout the Town and residents are liable for fines if the situation is not corrected within the stated time frame.

Colleen Feeney, Councillor Finance, Administration, Human Resources and Urban Planning cfeeney@montreal-west.ca

RECOVER AND REUSE ROOF RAINWATER

Following this month's report written by my colleague, Councilor Colleen Feeney, entitled "Where does all your roof water go?" I would like to add to that conversation.

As we all know, the climate is rapidly and sometimes drastically changing. Nowadays, summer weather can switch on a dime from a dry spell to a downpour. These dynamic conditions cause a slew of problems. For example, during a long hot spell the ground's soil loses moisture; it hardens, cracks and ultimately kills the vegetation which can help absorb coming rain. Then, during a large downpour, the water flows even more quickly into the sewer system, causing backups and flooding. Councillor Feeney has spoken about connecting a flexible downspout extension to your existing unit, but in addition to that I would like to offer a couple other environmentally friendly suggestions that will help mitigate flooding:

- I) To deal with dry and compacted clay soils, redirect the flexible downspout or self-coiling diverter to a percolating well or drainage trench. This will keep that section of your garden's soil moist for longer periods.
- 2) Install a rain barrel at the bottom of your downspout. Storing rainwater in barrels or other types of reservoirs helps build up a reserve of water which is ideal for watering your flowers, or handwashing your car and outdoor furniture. In a year, a rain barrel can potentially divert 80,000 liters of roof run-off water from the sewer! It's a win/win! Please give it a try.

THE DANGERS OF DISTRACTED DRIVING

I am discouraged by what I see every morning as I walk to the MoWest train station. As I navigate crossing streets and crosswalks in our neighbourhood, I see too many motorists – some I recognize as our neighbours – texting and driving or talking on their cellphones. It is really quite amazing that, in spite of several campaigns by police and government officials spelling out the dangers (and consequences) of distracted driving, some motorists simply do not get it. And as a father of three boys in our Town, it greatly distresses me to see drivers be so reckless with their lives and the lives of others. Here are some sobering statistics (Source: CAA):

- About 26% of all car crashes involve cellphone use, including handsfree phone use.
- Estimates indicate drivers using cellphones look at, but fail to see, up to 50% of the information in their driving environment.
- Drivers conversing on mobile devices, either hands-free or hand-held, are up to 4 times as likely to be involved in a car crash.
- Driver distraction is a factor in about 4 million motor vehicle crashes in North America each year.
- Distraction was a factor in nearly 6 out of 10 moderate-to-severe teen crashes.
- Almost half of all people killed in teen distraction-affected crashes were teens themselves.

There's really no excuse. Obey the law. Respect the security of others. Cherish the community that we live in.

RAPPORT DU MAIRE

Le projet de loi 21

Le jeudi 28 mars dernier, le gouvernement provincial a déposé son projet de loi 21 portant sur la laïcité.

Peu importe votre opinion à ce sujet, en tant que maire de Montréal-

Ouest, j'ai une très sérieuse réserve au sujet de l'ingérence du projet de loi dans les affaires municipales. Selon le projet de loi proposé, certains employés municipaux se verraient interdire le port de signes religieux. Par exemple, les agents de la paix et les greffiers ne seraient pas autorisés à porter une kippa, un hijab, une croix ou un turban au travail. Personnellement, je ne vois pas comment le port de l'un de ces symboles affecterait l'impartialité d'un employé dans le cadre de ses fonctions. L'agent de sécurité publique est-il moins compétent parce qu'il porte un turban? La greffière impose-t-elle sa religion aux autres parce qu'elle porte le voile? C'est tout simplement ridicule.

J'ai déclaré publiquement que je ne pouvais pas respecter cet aspect de la loi. Mes collègues de l'Association des municipalités de banlieue sont d'accord sur ce point et nous continuerons à faire connaître notre point de vue. Nous avons offert de travailler avec la Ville de Montréal pour présenter une position commune qui représente l'ensemble de l'île de Montréal - y compris le dépôt d'un mémoire conjoint lors des audiences de la commission de ce projet

Travaux d'infrastructure en 2019

Comme je l'ai mentionné lors d'une séance publique en décembre, nous avons reçu une subvention de 1 020 000$ pour entreprendre des travaux d'infrastructure sur Crestwood et Wolseley N (entre Radcliffe et Edinburgh). Lors de notre séance publique en mars, nous avons octroyé un contrat de 3,1 millions de dollars pour entreprendre les travaux dans les deux rues cet été. Les travaux comprendront la reconstruction complète des deux tronçons : la conduite d'eau principale, les égouts, a fondation de la chaussée, les trottoirs et le revêtement routier. La plus basse soumission conforme est inférieure d'environ 12 % à notre estimation des travaux.

Reconstruire deux rues

en un été est une tâche difficile, mais je crois que nous devons poursuivre nos travaux d'infrastructure à un rythme soutenu. Ce n'est pas attirant, mais ça doit être fait. D'un point de vue environnemental, je crois qu'il est important de s'attaquer immédiatement aux deux rues, surtout à cause des problèmes de possibles raccordements inversés dans le secteur. Comme toujours, nous tiendrons une séance d'information avant le début des travaux à l'intention des résidents affectés.

Café avec le maire

Le Café avec le maire aura lieu le jeudi 25 avril et le jeudi 23 mai de 7 h 30 à 8 h 30 au centre communautaire.

Beny Masella, maire Ville de Montréal-Ouest bmasella@montreal-ouest.ca

OUI, L'ARGENT POUSSE VRAIMENT DANS LES ARBRES

Voulez-vous ajouter entre 5 % et 18 % à la valeur de votre propriété avec une seule action? C'est très simple. Plantez un arbre. Mieux encore, demandez au service des travaux publics de la Ville de le planter. De nombreuses études ont démontré que le fait d'avoir un arbre de rue mature devant sa maison augmente considérablement son attrait. Une étude menée à Québec auprès des acheteurs de maisons a démontré que c'était le cas, surtout dans les quartiers huppés, comme Montréal-Ouest.

Comment se traduirait donc cette hausse de 5 % à 18 %? Ce serait l'équivalent de 30 000 $ à 120 000 $ pour une maison de 675 000 $ à Montréal-Ouest! Ces chiffres représentent la valeur ajoutée d'un arbre de rue à pleine maturité. Faites-en planter un immédiatement si vous n'en avez pas déjà un. L'ajout d'un arbre maintenant augmentera certainement votre prix de vente éventuel, et ce même si vous ne prévoyez déménager que dans 5 à 10 ans.

Vous vous dites peut-être : "C'est de la folie! Ce n'est pas possible qu'un arbre puisse ajouter autant de valeur." Sortez de chez vous et imaginez votre rue sans arbres. Comme l'étude de Québec l'a indiqué, les gens déménagent dans des endroits comme Montréal-Ouest pour l'attrait de ses rues lignées d'arbres. Les nouveaux développements offrent des unités abordables, mais leurs rues sont dépourvues du caractère et du confort d'une forêt urbaine.

Les pelouses et les plates-bandes bien entretenues ajoutent également à l'attrait d'une maison, mais ont beaucoup moins d'effet sur la valeur marchande de la propriété. C'est logique, car les acheteurs potentiels peuvent facilement installer une nouvelle pelouse ou planter des fleurs, mais un arbre mature prend des années à se développer et est reconnu comme un atout irremplaçable.

Nous aimons beaucoup nos jardins et résistons parfois à la plantation d'arbres de peur de faire de l'ombre aux fleurs. Ceci étant dit, il y a beaucoup d'arbres à croissance lente comme les chênes et les aubépines qui prendront des années à jeter de l'ombre, et ajouteront une énorme valeur à votre propriété.

Afin de maintenir notre jardin urbain, le service des travaux publics plante un certain nombre d'arbres sur l'emprise municipale au printemps et à l'automne. Si vous recevez une lettre de la Ville indiquant que votre adresse a été sélectionnée pour la plantation d'un arbre de rue, vous aurez le choix entre 3 espèces. Vous n'avez pas reçu de lettre mais aimeriez quand même avoir un arbre devant votre maison? Rendez-vous sur notre site web et remplissez le formulaire (sous Travaux publics > Arbres). La Ville évaluera votre terrain avant et, si possible, plantera et entretiendra un arbre pendant toute sa durée de vie. Ce sera vous qui en bénéficierez!

Elizabeth Ulin. conseillère Loisirs, Culture et Communications eulin@montreal-west.ca

OÙ SE DIRIGE L'EAU PLUVIALE?

Bien que Montréal-Ouest ait entrepris d'importants travaux d'infrastructure au cours des dix dernières années, bon nombre de nos conduites d'eaux pluviales et d'eaux usées remontent encore à plusieurs décennies et, dans certains quartiers de la ville, elles sont regroupées en un seul système. L'augmentation du ruissellement des eaux pluviales peut donc entraîner des débordements d'égout et des inondations potentielles.

Montréal-Ouest a une règlementation dans son règlement de construction (article 2.1.7) stipulant que l'eau de pluie provenant d'un toit en pente ne peut être déversée directement dans le réseau d'égout de la Ville. Cette disposition, en vigueur depuis des années, est semblable aux règlements dans la plupart des municipalités. Il existe une exception pour les toits plats qui ont généralement des descentes pluviales intérieures.

En d'autres termes, la descente de gouttière d'un toit en pente devrait sortir à l'extérieur du bâtiment, plutôt que s'écouler dans le système de drainage de votre maison, se déversant dans le réseau d'égout municipal. De plus, lorsque l'eau du toit s'écoule vers l'extérieur, il est préférable qu'elle se déverse sur votre pelouse, où elle peut être partiellement absorbée par le sol.

Pression sur les égouts municipaux

La raison d'être de ce règlement est d'aider à réduire la surcharge du réseau d'égout municipal lors de grandes pluies, quand de grandes quantités d'eau en un temps record peuvent mener à des refoulements. Le problème devient de plus en plus fréquent avec les conditions climatiques actuelles. Nombre de villes nord-américaines ont vécu des inondations, souvent causées par le refoulement du réseau d'égout.

Dévier l'eau captée par la descente de gouttière

Afin de gérer ce risque de refoulement, la Ville a procédé à des inspections et a demandé aux résidents qui ont des raccordements illégaux de les corriger. Heureusement, les correctifs sont simples. La plupart des quincailleries vendent des rallonges pour les descentes à moins de 10 $. Ces rallonges peuvent être fixées à votre tuyau de descente pour rediriger l'eau de pluie vers votre pelouse. Vous pouvez aussi utiliser des dévidoirs à enroulement automatique ou des tranchées de drainage pour rediriger l'eau du toit vers le sol. Assurez-vous de porter l'eau à une distance d'au moins 1,5 mètre de vos fondations sans nuire à vos voisins.

Rediriger l'eau de pluie vers votre aménagement paysager hydratera le sol, réduira l'arrosage et contribuera à la préservation de votre végétation.

Inspectez votre système de drainage de toiture et corrigez-le si nécessaire. Les inspections se poursuivront dans toute la ville et les résidents seront passibles d'amende si la situation n'est pas rectifiée dans les délais impartis.

RÉCUPÉRER ET RÉUTILISER L'EAU DE PLUIE

J'aimerais rajouter quelques mots à la suite de l'article par la conseillère Colleen Feeney, intitulé « Où se dirige l'eau pluviale? ».

Comme nous le savons tous, le climat change à un rythme jusque-là inégalé. Il n'est pas rare de passer d'un temps sec à une averse de pluie dans un court laps de temps. Ces conditions changeantes causent une multitude de problèmes. Par exemple, pendant une longue période de chaleur, le sol perd de l'humidité, se durcit, se fend et entraîne la perte de végétaux qui aident à absorber la pluie. Lors d'une averse importante, l'eau s'écoule donc encore plus rapidement dans le réseau d'égout, provoquant des refoulements et des inondations.

La conseillère Feeney a parlé de l'ajout d'une rallonge flexible à votre tuyau de descente existant, mais j'aimerais aussi vous offrir quelques autres suggestions écologiques qui aideront à atténuer les risques d'inondation :

- I) Rediriger la rallonge vers un puits percolant ou une tranchée de drainage pour traiter les sols argileux secs et compactés. Ceci gardera cette section du sol humide pendant de plus longues périodes.
- 2) Installer un baril de récupération d'eau de pluie au bout de votre descente pluviale. Entreposer l'eau de pluie dans un baril ou tout autre type de réservoir vous donne accès à une réserve d'eau idéale pour arroser vos fleurs et laver votre voiture et vos meubles de jardin. En un an, un baril de pluie peut détourner jusqu'à 80 000 litres d'eau de ruissellement du toit de l'égout! C'est gagnant-gagnant pour tous et vaut être essayé!

Maria Torres, conseillère Travaux publics, Bâtiments et Environnement mtorres@montreal-ouest.ca

LES DANGERS DE LA DISTRACTION AU VOLANT

Je suis découragé par ce que je vois tous les matins alors que je me rends à la gare de train. En traversant les rues et les passages pour piétons de notre quartier, je vois trop d'automobilistes qui utilisent leur téléphone cellulaire. Je trouve étonnant que certains automobilistes ne comprennent toujours pas les dangers (et les conséquences) de la distraction au volant, et ce malgré les campagnes lancées par la police et le gouvernement. En tant que père de trois garçons, j'ai beaucoup de peine à voir les conducteurs faire preuve d'une telle insouciance à l'égard de leur vie et de celle des autres. Voici quelques statistiques qui font réfléchir (Source: CAA):

- Près de 26 % des accidents de voiture sont causés par l'utilisation du téléphone, y compris avec la fonction mains libres.
- D'après les estimations, les conducteurs qui utilisent leur téléphone ne voient que 50 % de l'information présente dans leur environnement.
- Parler au téléphone, même en mains libres, augmente jusqu'à 4 fois le risque de collision pour le conducteur.
- En Amérique du Nord, la distraction au volant est en cause dans près de quatre millions de collisions de véhicules automobiles chaque année
- La distraction est un facteur dans près de 60 % des accidents de la route de gravité moyenne à élevée qui impliquent des adolescents.
- Près de la moitié des personnes tuées dans des collisions causées par des adolescents distraits sont elles-mêmes adolescentes.

Il n'y a vraiment pas d'excuse : respectez la loi et la sécurité d'autrui. Chérissons notre communauté.

Beavers

During the month of February, the Beavers democratically chose activities and crafts to do during our rotation weeks. This is part of the new Canadian Path Program where the youth have a say in the activities that they would like to do; of course the leaders are there for suggestions and guidance. They chose building with Lego; learning to use tools such as screwdrivers and hammers; making stain glass cards; creating Love Monsters and cupcake decorating for Valentines. This was all intertwined with games and songs. Our annual night out at the Arena included skating, hockey, searching for frozen treasures and finished of with cookies and hot chocolate. In mid-February a few of our beavers and their families attended a special presentation by the Geordie Theatre Productions - an activity that we will do again next year.

March focused on active and healthy living along with the introduction to first aid. Everyone created a Ziploc bag of simple supplies such as wipes and bandages. The Colony was introduced to "Citizenship" as they took part in an exciting activity - each child was able to propose a name for one of the three new RCMP puppies. March ended with a night of looking up interesting facts, songs and jokes about their Lodge animals. This was in preparation for our visit to the Ecomuseum in April.

from Jessica Lonardi

Cubs

Our Cub Pack has been busy! The Cubs received their humdrum blocks of pine at the end of February and over the next few weeks transformed them into racing works of art. The big race was held on March 20.

Congratulations go to James Mackison for taking first place, second place to Finnegan Duncan and third place to Winston Li. Daegan Thun's car was the best-decorated.

April begins with the Cubs heading to CEGEP Andre-Laurendeau to do some indoor rock climbing, continues with some spring camp preparation for our trip to Quebec City and ends with our Moving-up ceremony.

Now that spring is here we are going to take advantage of the warmer weather and longer days to spend more time outdoors.

from Todd Stedl

Scouts

The Scouts' biggest event was their two-night trip to Camp Kinkora in March. In preparation, the Scouts had to create a meal plan as a troop, which was a valuable exercise in group communication and negotiation. They learned about Canada's new food guide and implemented it during the menu planning. This taught them the importance of nutrition and a healthy diet, which was crucial for their well being during a busy weekend of camping. A few of the Scouters had to find and buy the food and pack it efficiently.

They had a fantastic weekend of playing games, cooking outdoors and attempting to build a fire in the snow, "using at least 400 matches" in the process, according to troop leader Nathaniel. The winter weather was an added challenge, with rain and puddles on the first day, which was contrasted with snow and wind on the second day. The trip was tiring for some of the newer Scouts, but a great learning experience and one that everyone is looking forward to repeating.

The campsite was shared with another Scout troop, 1st David Thompson from Ahuntsic, who kindly donated food to the 1st MoWest Scouts. They have decided to write a thank you letter on behalf of our troop, to thank David Thompson for their generosity and company.

Cookies!

traditional cookies arrived right on schedule in mid-March. As girls started to sell the vanilla and chocolate sandwich cookies, there were some customers who were requesting the mint cookies. The leaders did there very best to secure the last few remaining cases of mint cookies in the Montreal area to make sure everyone had their preferred Girl Guide treat.

When you purchase a box of Girl Guide cookies, you are not only enjoying a confection which has been a fundraiser for the past 90 years, you are also supporting Guiding activities in MoWest, Canada and internationally.

Thank you so much for your overwhelming support! You are helping to shape the leaders of tomorrow!

Sparks

The Sparks have been having fun learning about special days. For example, did you know there was the Full Worm Supermoon on the Vernal Equinox, International Theatre Day and international Find a Rainbow Day?

These are a few of the special days they have celebrated. Just like snowflakes and people, the different day celebrations come in all shapes and sizes. For the Full Worm Supermoon day, the girls learned of how the celestial bodies work in relation to one another. For the International Day of the Theatre, the girls made puppets and developed their own plays and presented them to the rest of the unit. For the international Find a Rainbow Day, the girls learned how to break up light in order to see a rainbow. Perhaps this will give them new insight when the see a rainbow in the sky after a rainstorm.

Every week, the girls also participate in themed related games and crafts.

The Sparks program was started 30 years ago. All around the country, there are Sparks units holding birthday parties to celebrate this wonderful milestone. The provincial office decided to host a Spark Jamboree in early May in recognition of the event. With very limited space for the event, our girls were one of the first to sign up for this fun celebration! Our unit will have a party in the fall to celebrate when our particular unit was started.

Brownies

The Brownies are thrilled to welcome a new leader to the unit. Gina joined the Brownies in March. She is having a great time with our girls, and our girls love her too!

The Brownies have been working on completing some of the old program badges. This year is a transition year between the two programs. They have also been combining the themes of dancing and dreams coming true. The girls choreographed and led different types of dance activities for the unit to join. Some of the different styles of dance were ballet, hip hop and jazz. They decided to combine these two themes as a lead up to the Geordie production of Reaching for Starlight.

All Guiding members, and their families, were invited to attend the Reaching for Star*light* a play of a young woman who believes she has what it takes to land the main solo in the end of year production. She starts to question why her friend is not being treated the same way she is. She questions old stereotypes and realizes that winning does not always mean coming out on top.

Guides

The Guides have been busy building bridges between their unit and Guide units in Ottawa, ON and Jamesville, WI. The girls have become pen pals with these two groups and are handwriting these notes and mailing them off to each of the groups. They are eagerly awaiting the responses in the mail! The hope is to visit with the girls from Ottawa. What fun it will be to be able to place a name to a face! Inspired by the time capsule they contributed toward at the provincial Thinking Day sleepover in February, the girls decided to make a time capsule just for their unit. They have all written notes to future Guides of the 110th unit. The time capsule is hidden in the closet at the church where the Guiding supplies are kept.

Plans are under way for a spring camp being held at the beginning of June at Camp Weredale. This will be the first time our units visit this site. We are all looking forward to the new adventure!

Year End Skating Show

Sunday, March 17 it was standing room only at the annual CRA Year End Skating Show. The show combines skaters from our figure skating program, co-ordinated by Anne Smith and coached by Heather Smith, as well as skaters from the learn to skate program, co-ordinated and coached by Mackenzie Bullet. These skaters have been working since October to learn new skills and practise their numbers.

Skaters performed to songs such as Dancing Queen, Mama Mia, disco remixes and Latin music. There were group numbers as well as impressive solos performed by Julia Ames, Carrie Ann McCarthy, Naomi Wark, Carloine Dahdah and Maya Fu. Congratulations to all the skaters who did a fantastic job at the performance.

A special thank you to Beth Bloodgood Ames for all the homemade costumes and our volunteer assistant coaches for their patience and time. As well, thank you to all the other parent volunteers for all their time and help with the program and the end of year skating show.

Of course the show would not be possible without the many volunteer hours of Future Stars finished their season with a pizza party and medals at Legion Rink. Our youngest players have come far this year learning how to skate forwards, backwards and puck handle. We look forward to seeing them back on the ice this fall.

Kings hockey

The Double letter hockey program has also finished their regular season after playing 24 regular season games and played in the regional playoffs. Our PWBB team played in the regional finals and lost 2-1 in overtime in a close battle against Pierrefonds. # Town Council meeting: March

by Carol Foster

The Mayor began this unusually short meeting of Council by announcing that it had been decided to treat the major infrastructure work required on both Crestwood and Wolseley Avenue North as a joint project. The work will begin this summer and residents will be invited to attend an information session before the work begins.

First question period

The first resident to speak stated that, as a member of Les amis du parc Meadow-brook, he was distressed to learn the City of Montreal had decided to cover, rather than simply divert, the stream that runs through the golf course. Councillor Ulin indicated that while MoWest was concerned about the possible pollution consequences in any decision, she invited the speaker to share any ongoing information and let Council decide how it might be of assistance.

This resident also asked about the timeline for the completion of the proposed cross-connected drains study which had been expected a few months ago. The answer came from the Town's Director General, Raffaella Di Stasio, who explained that the method being used by the Town was extremely thorough and required a considerable length of time which contributed to the delay.

The next issues to be raised came from two residents both living on Brock South.

A letter directed to the Minister of Transport, concerning the increased noise in that area as a result of the train tunnel being eliminated, was read to Council by one of these residents. The author felt that there had been no consultation and no adequate studies had been carried out before the tunnel was removed, resulting in a huge impact on that neighbourhood. The letter asked for a meeting with the appropriate authorities and members of the community in an attempt to find ways to work together in order to mitigate the noise.

The Mayor felt that the MTQ may already have some plans in the works, such as planting trees in that area. Councillor Mazzone added that he understood there was also a budget for these plans.

Continuing traffic problems in that same neighbourhood was the next topic discussed. The question of the removed cement barrier at Brock and Ronald Drive, the removal of a speed bump on Brock South and the consequences of increased traffic due to the development on the site of the old Motel Raphael were all brought up.

The removal of the barrier was probably only needed for temporary access for some work being done in that area, was the Mayor's explanation. The resolution of the other traffic problems can only be determined once the Town has a firm understanding of what the consequences of the new development will mean for that area so that a comprehensive plan can be put in place.

Councillors' reports

Public Works continued to deal with the removal of ice and snow as well as beginning the spring cleanup and the filling of potholes.

Councillor Torres repeated her desire to see increased citizen participation in the compost collection which occurs every Tuesday.

Councillor Mazzone announced the PSOs had found no need to ticket any contractor dealing with snow removal during the past month. However, 19 vehicles had to be towed in order to remove them from obstructing the snow-clearing process.

Although the incidence of crime was low, there was an electrical fire in a building on Ronald Drive as well as a vehicle collision involving a sleepy driver in one car and two parked cars in the vicinity of Northview and Parkside.

April 26 will be the end of early bird registration for summer activities was the first item in Councillor Ulin's report. There have been a lot of applicants for the jobs as camp counsellors, guaranteeing a good selection. Ice activities at the arena will end on April 8, and the annual Volunteer Night will take place the same day. The next Artists' Showcase theme will be "Gender."

Councillor Feeney announced that the audit of the Town's expenses has been completed. She provided an explanation of how taxpayers' money had been spent during the past month and noted that the snow-clearing process continued to be a very large expense. She cautioned residents to get their renovation plans for the coming season into PAC as early as possible and pointed out that the applications for permits can be filled out and submitted online.

Meetings continue with the Town's merchants. Plans to be designated a "senior friendly town" are approaching the next phase which will involve a consultation process.

There were no questions during the second question period and 43 minutes after the meeting began, it was adjourned.

Réunion du Conseil : mars

par Carol Foster traduction par René Boucher

Le maire a ouvert cette réunion exceptionnellement courte du Conseil avec l'annonce de la décision de traiter les travaux majeurs d'infrastructure sur Crestwood et Wolseley Nord comme un projet conjoint. Le chantier s'amorcera cet été et l'on conviera les résidents à une séance d'information avant le début.

Première période de questions

Le premier citoyen à prendre la parole affirma qu'à titre de membre des Amis du parc Meadowbrook, il était bouleversé d'apprendre que la Ville de Montréal avait décidé de couvrir plutôt que simplement détourner le ruisseau qui coule sur le terrain de golf.

La conseillère Ulin indiqua que même si Mo-Ouest se préoccupe du potentiel de pollution résultant de la décision, quelle qu'elle soit, elle a invité l'intervenant à partager toute information avec le Conseil et le laisser décider comment il pourrait aider.

Le résident a aussi demandé quel était le calendrier pour l'achèvement de l'analyse proposée des canalisations croisées que l'on attendait il y a quelques mois. La directrice générale de la Ville, Raffaella Di Stasio, a expliqué que la méthode utilisée est extrêmement minutieuse et demande un temps considérable qui a contribué au retard.

Deux résidents de Brock Sud ont soulevé les questions suivantes.

L'une des deux a lu au Conseil une lettre adressée au ministre des Transports concernant le bruit engendré par la démolition du tunnel ferroviaire. Selon l'auteure, aucune consultation ni étude convenable n'a été tenue avant l'élimination du tunnel, ce qui a eu un immense impact sur le voisinage. La lettre demandait une rencontre entre les autorités compétentes et des membres de la communauté pour travailler ensemble à réduire le bruit.

Le maire croyait que le MTQ avait peutêtre déjà des plans en cours, comme de planter des arbres dans ce secteur. Le conseiller Mazzone ajouta qu'à son entendement, il existait aussi un budget à ces fins.

Le sujet suivant concernait aussi les problèmes omniprésents de circulation dans ce même secteur. On souleva alors la question de l'enlèvement de la barricade de béton à l'angle Brock et promenade Ronald, celle de l'élimination d'un dos d'âne sur Brock Sud et les conséquences de l'augmentation de la circulation résultant du développement du site de l'ancien motel Raphaël.

Le maire expliqua que l'enlèvement de la barricade était probablement nécessaire pour permettre un accès temporaire pour l'exécution de travaux. Les autres problèmes soulevés ne pourront être résolus que lorsque la Ville aura une bonne compréhension des conséquences de ce que ce nouveau développement signifiera pour cette zone et pourra mettre en place un plan complet.

Rapports des conseillers

Les Travaux publics ont continué à enlever la neige et la glace et débuté le nettoyage printanier et le remplissage des nids-de-poule.

La conseillère Torres a réitéré son souhait de voir une plus grande participation des citoyens à la collecte des matières compostables qui a lieu tous les mardis.

Le conseiller Mazzone a rapporté que les ASP n'avaient pas eu besoin de remettre de constats d'infraction aux déneigeurs au cours du dernier mois. Par ailleurs, on a dû remorquer 19 véhicules qui gênaient le déneigement.

Le taux de criminalité était bas, mais un problème électrique a causé un incendie sur la promenade Ronald, et un chauffeur endormi au volant a percuté deux véhicules en stationnement dans le secteur Northview et Parkside.

La conseillère Ulin amorça son rapport en rappelant que la période d'inscription hâtive aux activités estivales se terminera le 26 avril. Il y a un grand nombre de postulants pour les postes de moniteurs au camp de jour, garantissant une bonne sélection. Les activités sur glace à l'aréna se terminent le 8 avril et la Soirée des bénévoles se tiendra le même jour. «Art et genre» sera le thème de la prochaine vitrine artistique.

La conseillère Feeney a annoncé que l'audit des dépenses de la Ville était terminé. Elle a expliqué comment la Ville avait utilisé les deniers des contribuables au cours du mois précédent et a fait remarquer que le déneigement demeure une très grosse dépense. Elle a avisé les citoyens de transmettre leurs plans de rénovation pour la prochaine saison au CCU le plus tôt possible et a indiqué que l'on peut remplir et soumettre les demandes de permis en ligne.

Les rencontres se poursuivent avec les marchands de la ville et les travaux menant à la désignation de «municipalité amie des aînés» approchent de la prochaine phase qui impliquera un processus de consultation

Aucun point n'étant soulevé lors de la seconde période de questions, la séance était levée, 43 minutes après son ouverture.

MW United

...the brick one

We seldom have evening services, however Good Friday, April 19 at 7 pm one of our faith's most significant services will begin. The service is simple and to the point, but is such a worthwhile experience. We all carry dark places and this service supports us on this journey. Thought-provoking always. A Silent Vigil – an hour of contemplation – follows for those who wish to remain with their reflections.

Brass and bunnies, chicks and chocolate

So the splendor of Easter hops, hatches and musically surges into our lives Sunday morning, April, 14. Amidst tulips, trumpets, organ, and choir, Rev. Mark Hammond will bring us the message for which we have been preparing. Come and experience it for yourselves. All are welcome.

Afternoon Labyrinth Walk

Sunday, April 28, 2 to 4 pm. Come, unwind, seek answers or simply Peace. Socks or slippers please and all are welcome.

Bookshelves bursting?

Have we got a solution for you. Take those books you can now part with, drop them off in small boxes at the church. Remember to check through your CDs, records, good magazines, jigsaw puzzles, games, etc. Bring them before May because Saturday, May 4 is the Book Browse Plus from 9:30 am to 3 pm. Come by, have a cup of coffee, peruse to your heart's content and take home a new batch for the cottage or for Balconville. We'll have lots of boxes and bags to help you haul 'em home.

Musical Thursday this year

Once again Laurie Altman is bringing a multi-talented guy to entertain you with a variety of songs. Jonathan Munro cowrote The Hockey Sweater: The Musical no less. So make a note of Thursday, May 16 at 1 pm. The one-hour concert is followed by tea and goodies. Come and bring the neighbourhood.

Drop by any Sunday at 10 am for worship and Sunday school. Family friendly, accessible and welcoming. We'd love to see you. May Easter and springtime bring you promise....

St. Philip's

Maundy Thursday, April 18, we join with St. Thomas' Church for a pot-luck supper and commemoration of the Last Supper at 6 pm. The Good Friday liturgy, featuring the choir chanting the Passion according to St. John, veneration of the cross and a simple communion will take place at noon.

For children, we offer an interactive Easter Vigil Saturday at 7 pm. We gather outside to light the new fire, then bring the light into the dark church. We tell a few stories about God bringing new life, then the church comes alive with light, bells and joyful song.

Finally, Easter Sunday, we offer two services: 8 am and 10 am. At 10, we will hear, for the first time, the newly restored pipe organ!

Sunday, April 28, we will bid farewell to our student minister Tyson Røsberg with a pot-luck lunch following the 10 am service. He will be heading to Vancouver to do clinical pastoral education, then returning to Montreal for ordination in September.

Our annual spring fair is Saturday, May 11 at 9 am. The bakers of St. Philip's will be hard at work, and the bake table will be loaded with delicious cookies, squares, breads, cupcakes and cakes! The book table will have the usual large assortment. Numerous craftspeople will be selling artworks, jewellery, blankets and other artisanal creations. Outdoors on the lawn, we will have a community yard sale where you can find just about anything! And for lunch, Fr. Jim will be grilling hot dogs! If you would like to clean out your basement, garage or attic, yard sale tables are only $25 and can be reserved by calling the church office at 481-4871.
